

How it works

We are required by law¹ to verify the identity and address of both the Unincorporated Society (“Society”) and key individuals associated with the Society. We collect this information in three steps.

Step 1. Identification

Step 2. Address

Step 3. Other information

Step 1 - Identification

Society

We require a copy of the Society’s articles, rules or constitution establishing the Society and authorising the facility, along with identifying the key individuals of the Society. If the Society is unable to provide one of the above, the Society will be identified via the key individuals as per steps below.

Key individuals

Examples of the key individuals we will need to identify are listed below:

- ▶ Officers of the Society

At least one form of identification needs to contain a photo. Choose from one of the following sets (sets two and three require one primary and one secondary document).

	Primary Identification Document	Secondary Identification Document
Set One	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▶ Passport (NZ or overseas) ▶ New Zealand Firearms License 	Not Required

Step 2 - Proof of address

We need to verify the physical address of the Society² and the physical address of all key individuals associated with the Society. Below are some examples of documentation that can be used to verify the key individuals' residential address.

One item from the list below	Important notes

Step 3 - Other information

If your identification documents are issued by a country other than New Zealand, Australia, The United Kingdom, Canada, France, Germany or the United States of America, we may need to ask you for additional information about your income or assets.

Document Guidelines

Documents must be originals. We can also accept copies certified by a trusted referee. Please contact us for further information. Documentation in a foreign language must be accompanied by an independent and certified English translation provided to you by a professional translator.
